HOUSE BILL No. 1406

DIGEST OF INTRODUCED BILL

Citations Affected: IC 34-30-2-148.5; IC 35-33.5-6.

Synopsis: Interception of telephone communications. Allows for the telephone lines that run into a location to be cut, rerouted, or diverted without a warrant if: (1) the supervising officer of a law enforcement agency is present at the location and has reasonable cause to believe that a person is holding a hostage, a person has barricaded himself or herself and taken a position of confinement to avoid apprehension, a person who is about to be arrested will resist with the use of weapons, or a person has barricaded himself or herself and is armed and threatening suicide; and (2) cutting, rerouting, or diverting the telephone lines is technically feasible and can be performed without endangering the lives of law enforcement agency or telephone company personnel.

Effective: July 1, 2001.

Adams T

January 11, 2001, read first time and referred to Committee on Courts and Criminal Code.

2001

First Regular Session 112th General Assembly (2001)

PRINTING CODE. Amendments: Whenever an existing statute (or a section of the Indiana Constitution) is being amended, the text of the existing provision will appear in this style type, additions will appear in this style type, and deletions will appear in this style type.

Additions: Whenever a new statutory provision is being enacted (or a new constitutional provision adopted), the text of the new provision will appear in this style type. Also, the word NEW will appear in that style type in the introductory clause of each SECTION that adds a new provision to the Indiana Code or the Indiana Constitution.

Conflict reconciliation: Text in a statute in this style type or this style type reconciles conflicts between statutes enacted by the 2000 General Assembly.

G

HOUSE BILL No. 1406

O

A BILL FOR AN ACT to amend the Indiana Code concerning criminal law and procedure.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana:

Ť	l	İ	/
	M	7	,

1	SECTION 1. IC 34-30-2-148.5 IS ADDED TO THE INDIANA
2	CODE AS A NEW SECTION TO READ AS FOLLOWS
3	[EFFECTIVE JULY 1, 2001]: Sec. 148.5. IC 35-33.5-6-2 (Concerning
1	persons who cut, reroute, or divert telephone lines pursuant to
5	order of law enforcement officer).
5	SECTION 2. IC 35-33.5-6 IS ADDED TO THE INDIANA CODE
7	AS A NEW CHAPTER TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE
3	JULY 1, 2001]:

Chapter 6. Exceptions for Emergencies

- Sec. 1. Notwithstanding any other provision of this article, if:
 - (1) the supervising officer of a law enforcement agency is present at a particular location;
 - (2) the supervising officer has reasonable cause to believe that:
 - (A) a person present at the location is holding at least one
- (1) hostage;

2001

(B) a person present at the location has barricaded himself

10

11 12

13 14

15

16

17

apprehension; (C) a person present at the location, who is about to be arrested, will resist with the use of weapons; or (D) a person present at the location has barricaded himself or herself and is armed and threatening suicide; and (3) cutting, rerouting, or diverting the telephone lines that run into the location: (A) is technically feasible; and (B) can be performed without endangering the lives of law enforcement agency or telephone company personnel; the supervising officer may order law enforcement agency or telephone company personnel to cut, reroute, or divert the telephone lines for the purpose of preventing telephone communications between the person described in subdivision (2) and any other person other than a law enforcement officer or a law enforcement officer's designee. Sec. 2. A good faith reliance by a person on an oral or written order to cut, reroute, or divert telephone lines that is given by a supervising law enforcement officer under section 1 of this chapter constitutes a complete defense to a civil, criminal, or administrative action brought against the person.	3 (C) 4 arr 5 (D)	a person present at the location, who is about to be rested, will resist with the use of weapons; or arrested, will resist with the use of weapons; or (D) a person present at the location has barricaded himself or herself and is armed and threatening suicide; and (3) cutting, rerouting, or diverting the telephone lines that run into the location: (A) is technically feasible; and (B) can be performed without endangering the lives of law enforcement agency or telephone company personnel; the supervising officer may order law enforcement agency or telephone company personnel to cut, reroute, or divert the telephone lines for the purpose of preventing telephone communications between the person described in subdivision (2) and any other person other than a law enforcement officer or a law enforcement officer's designee. Sec. 2. A good faith reliance by a person on an oral or written order to cut, reroute, or divert telephone lines that is given by a supervising law enforcement officer under section 1 of this chapter constitutes a complete defense to a civil, criminal, or administrative	4 arr 5 (D)	rested, will resist with the use of weapons; or
(D) a person present at the location has barricaded himself or herself and is armed and threatening suicide; and (3) cutting, rerouting, or diverting the telephone lines that run into the location: (A) is technically feasible; and (B) can be performed without endangering the lives of law enforcement agency or telephone company personnel; the supervising officer may order law enforcement agency or telephone company personnel to cut, reroute, or divert the telephone lines for the purpose of preventing telephone communications between the person described in subdivision (2) and any other person other than a law enforcement officer or a law enforcement officer's designee. Sec. 2. A good faith reliance by a person on an oral or written order to cut, reroute, or divert telephone lines that is given by a supervising law enforcement officer under section 1 of this chapter constitutes a complete defense to a civil, criminal, or administrative	5 (D)	•
or herself and is armed and threatening suicide; and (3) cutting, rerouting, or diverting the telephone lines that run into the location: (A) is technically feasible; and (B) can be performed without endangering the lives of law enforcement agency or telephone company personnel; the supervising officer may order law enforcement agency or telephone company personnel to cut, reroute, or divert the telephone lines for the purpose of preventing telephone communications between the person described in subdivision (2) and any other person other than a law enforcement officer or a law enforcement officer's designee. Sec. 2. A good faith reliance by a person on an oral or written order to cut, reroute, or divert telephone lines that is given by a supervising law enforcement officer under section 1 of this chapter constitutes a complete defense to a civil, criminal, or administrative	()
(3) cutting, rerouting, or diverting the telephone lines that run into the location: (A) is technically feasible; and (B) can be performed without endangering the lives of law enforcement agency or telephone company personnel; the supervising officer may order law enforcement agency or telephone company personnel to cut, reroute, or divert the telephone lines for the purpose of preventing telephone communications between the person described in subdivision (2) and any other person other than a law enforcement officer or a law enforcement officer's designee. Sec. 2. A good faith reliance by a person on an oral or written order to cut, reroute, or divert telephone lines that is given by a supervising law enforcement officer under section 1 of this chapter constitutes a complete defense to a civil, criminal, or administrative	6 or	a person present at the location has barricaded himself
(3) cutting, rerouting, or diverting the telephone lines that run into the location: (A) is technically feasible; and (B) can be performed without endangering the lives of law enforcement agency or telephone company personnel; the supervising officer may order law enforcement agency or telephone company personnel to cut, reroute, or divert the telephone lines for the purpose of preventing telephone communications between the person described in subdivision (2) and any other person other than a law enforcement officer or a law enforcement officer's designee. Sec. 2. A good faith reliance by a person on an oral or written order to cut, reroute, or divert telephone lines that is given by a supervising law enforcement officer under section 1 of this chapter constitutes a complete defense to a civil, criminal, or administrative	UI .	herself and is armed and threatening suicide; and
(A) is technically feasible; and (B) can be performed without endangering the lives of law enforcement agency or telephone company personnel; the supervising officer may order law enforcement agency or telephone company personnel to cut, reroute, or divert the telephone lines for the purpose of preventing telephone communications between the person described in subdivision (2) and any other person other than a law enforcement officer or a law enforcement officer's designee. Sec. 2. A good faith reliance by a person on an oral or written order to cut, reroute, or divert telephone lines that is given by a supervising law enforcement officer under section 1 of this chapter constitutes a complete defense to a civil, criminal, or administrative
(B) can be performed without endangering the lives of law enforcement agency or telephone company personnel; the supervising officer may order law enforcement agency or telephone company personnel to cut, reroute, or divert the telephone lines for the purpose of preventing telephone communications between the person described in subdivision (2) and any other person other than a law enforcement officer or a law enforcement officer's designee. Sec. 2. A good faith reliance by a person on an oral or written order to cut, reroute, or divert telephone lines that is given by a supervising law enforcement officer under section 1 of this chapter constitutes a complete defense to a civil, criminal, or administrative	8 into tl	ne location:
enforcement agency or telephone company personnel; the supervising officer may order law enforcement agency or telephone company personnel to cut, reroute, or divert the telephone lines for the purpose of preventing telephone communications between the person described in subdivision (2) and any other person other than a law enforcement officer or a law enforcement officer's designee. Sec. 2. A good faith reliance by a person on an oral or written order to cut, reroute, or divert telephone lines that is given by a supervising law enforcement officer under section 1 of this chapter constitutes a complete defense to a civil, criminal, or administrative	9 (A)	is technically feasible; and
enforcement agency or telephone company personnel; the supervising officer may order law enforcement agency or telephone company personnel to cut, reroute, or divert the telephone lines for the purpose of preventing telephone communications between the person described in subdivision (2) and any other person other than a law enforcement officer or a law enforcement officer's designee. Sec. 2. A good faith reliance by a person on an oral or written order to cut, reroute, or divert telephone lines that is given by a supervising law enforcement officer under section 1 of this chapter constitutes a complete defense to a civil, criminal, or administrative	(B)	can be performed without endangering the lives of law
telephone company personnel to cut, reroute, or divert the telephone lines for the purpose of preventing telephone communications between the person described in subdivision (2) and any other person other than a law enforcement officer or a law enforcement officer's designee. Sec. 2. A good faith reliance by a person on an oral or written order to cut, reroute, or divert telephone lines that is given by a supervising law enforcement officer under section 1 of this chapter constitutes a complete defense to a civil, criminal, or administrative		- telephone lines for the purpose of preventing telephone communications between the person described in subdivision (2) and any other person other than a law enforcement officer or a law enforcement officer's designee. Sec. 2. A good faith reliance by a person on an oral or written order to cut, reroute, or divert telephone lines that is given by a supervising law enforcement officer under section 1 of this chapter constitutes a complete defense to a civil, criminal, or administrative	2 the superv	ising officer may order law enforcement agency or communications between the person described in subdivision (2) and any other person other than a law enforcement officer or a law enforcement officer's designee. Sec. 2. A good faith reliance by a person on an oral or written order to cut, reroute, or divert telephone lines that is given by a supervising law enforcement officer under section 1 of this chapter constitutes a complete defense to a civil, criminal, or administrative	3 telephone	company personnel to cut, reroute, or divert the and any other person other than a law enforcement officer or a law enforcement officer's designee. Sec. 2. A good faith reliance by a person on an oral or written order to cut, reroute, or divert telephone lines that is given by a supervising law enforcement officer under section 1 of this chapter constitutes a complete defense to a civil, criminal, or administrative	4 telephone	lines for the purpose of preventing telephone enforcement officer's designee. Sec. 2. A good faith reliance by a person on an oral or written order to cut, reroute, or divert telephone lines that is given by a supervising law enforcement officer under section 1 of this chapter constitutes a complete defense to a civil, criminal, or administrative	5 communica	ations between the person described in subdivision (2)
Sec. 2. A good faith reliance by a person on an oral or written order to cut, reroute, or divert telephone lines that is given by a supervising law enforcement officer under section 1 of this chapter constitutes a complete defense to a civil, criminal, or administrative	6 and any otl	ner person other than a law enforcement officer or a law order to cut, reroute, or divert telephone lines that is given by a supervising law enforcement officer under section 1 of this chapter constitutes a complete defense to a civil, criminal, or administrative	7 enforceme	nt officer's designee.
supervising law enforcement officer under section 1 of this chapter constitutes a complete defense to a civil, criminal, or administrative	8 Sec. 2. A	A good faith reliance by a person on an oral or written constitutes a complete defense to a civil, criminal, or administrative	9 order to cu	it, reroute, or divert telephone lines that is given by a
, , ,	20 supervising	g law enforcement officer under section 1 of this chapter action brought against the person.	constitutes	a complete defense to a civil, criminal, or administrative
	22 action broa	aght against the person.
			- 1

